Rewards:

In recognition of exemplary adherence to the established code of conduct, members of the group who consistently demonstrate courtesy and respect shall be granted complimentary tickets to a designated night out. This token of appreciation serves to celebrate the positive contributions made by individuals who uphold the values outlined in the code of conduct.

Punishments:

In the event of a deviation from the code of conduct, members are allowed a maximum of two warnings. Should a breach persist beyond this limit, it is imperative to initiate communication with the tutor to collaboratively devise a fair and appropriate resolution. This formal process ensures that any issues are addressed judiciously and with consideration to maintaining a harmonious and respectful group dynamic.
